The Tailor of Gloucester

.....a tailor in Gloucester, who lived in College Court, was so poor he only rented the kitchen. He sent his cat Simpkin to buy food and a twist of Cherry coloured silk, to complete a waistcoat the mayor has commissioned for his wedding on Christmas morning.

While Simpkin is gone, the tailor finds mice that the cat has imprisoned under the teacups. The mice are released and scamper away. When Simpkin returns and finds the mice gone he hides the twist in anger.

The tailor sadly falls ill and is unable to complete the waistcoat in time, but, upon returning to his shop he is surprised to find the waistcoat finished. The work has been done by his grateful mice.

However, one buttonhole remains unfinished because there was “no more twist”, Simpkin gives the tailor the twist to complete the work and the success of the waistcoat makes the tailor’s fortune.

The End
